

The Canadian Aikido Federation: Protecting Your Privacy

Our Privacy Commitment to You

At the CAF, we are committed to protecting the privacy of your personal information. We would like to take this opportunity to provide you with some information as to what our ongoing commitment to you means.

Collecting, Using and Disclosing Personal Information About You

We collect, use and disclose personal information about you in order to serve your Aikido Martial Art needs. In particular, we only collect, use and disclose information about you for the purposes of:

- establishing and maintaining communications with you,
- establishing and maintaining a record of your membership,
- offering and providing membership benefits,
- administering the eligibility of new and existing members,
- administering the policy and procedures of the CAF
- liaison between our members and Hombu
- complying with the law.

When you (or your Dojo on your behalf) request membership with us, we consider that you have consented to our collection, use and disclosure of personal information about you for the purposes identified above.

You may withdraw your consent at any time, subject to legal or contractual restrictions and reasonable notice. If you withdraw your consent, it may limit our ability to provide you with your membership benefits or service.

Web Site

The CAF maintains a web site for the benefit of members. We do not collect personal information through it nor do we use cookies when you access the web site. Information is provided to enable interested persons to contact Dojo's and to help members access member benefits.

Obtaining Further Information
